Unit 2 - Prerequisite Assignment

Assignment 0

The assignment contains ten exercises. Each exercise may contain multiple parts. The answers are provided at the end of the document. Please ensure you understand the concepts before attempting the exercises. Once completed, you should be able to demonstrate proficiency in these foundational topics.

1. What is the temperature in Fahrenheit for 32 degrees Celsius?
   - 89.6°F

2. If the existing code block [from 0 to 10] prints 50, what should be the output of the following code block?
   - 50

3. What is the output of the following code block?
   - 10

4. What is the output of the following code block?
   - 0

5. What is the output of the following code block?
   - 0

6. What is the output of the following code block?
   - 0

7. What is the output of the following code block?
   - 0

8. What is the output of the following code block?
   - 0

9. What is the output of the following code block?
   - 0

10. What is the output of the following code block?
    - 0