Assignment II

1. A student of Heidelberg academy to be free with a job in a hotel. If the student completes 100 hours of work, he will receive €100 for his efforts. The student's earnings are based on the number of hours worked, with a minimum of 20 hours. The student must also complete a written report on the hotel's clientele and provide a summary of their experiences. If the student fails to complete the written report, he will not receive any pay.

2. A company is planning to expand its operations and needs to hire additional personnel. The company requires employees to work a minimum of 8 hours per day, 5 days a week. The company will provide transportation to and from the workplace and will also offer a free lunch each day. The employees must also be available to work on weekends if necessary. If the employee does not meet these requirements, they will not be considered for the position.

3. A restaurant is looking to hire new servers. The restaurant requires servers to work a 40-hour week, with a minimum of 8 hours per day. The restaurant will provide uniforms and will offer a free meal during their shift. The servers must also be available to work on holidays if necessary. If the server does not meet these requirements, they will not be considered for the position.

4. A construction company is looking to hire new workers. The company requires workers to work a minimum of 40 hours per week, with a minimum of 8 hours per day. The company will provide uniforms and will offer a free meal during their shift. The workers must also be available to work on weekends if necessary. If the worker does not meet these requirements, they will not be considered for the position.

5. A retail store is looking to hire new employees. The store requires employees to work a minimum of 30 hours per week, with a minimum of 6 hours per day. The store will provide uniforms and will offer a free meal during their shift. The employees must also be available to work on weekends if necessary. If the employee does not meet these requirements, they will not be considered for the position.

6. A transportation company is looking to hire new drivers. The company requires drivers to work a minimum of 40 hours per week, with a minimum of 8 hours per day. The company will provide uniforms and will offer a free meal during their shift. The drivers must also be available to work on weekends if necessary. If the driver does not meet these requirements, they will not be considered for the position.

7. A hotel is looking to hire new housekeepers. The hotel requires housekeepers to work a minimum of 30 hours per week, with a minimum of 6 hours per day. The hotel will provide uniforms and will offer a free meal during their shift. The housekeepers must also be available to work on weekends if necessary. If the housekeeper does not meet these requirements, they will not be considered for the position.

8. A restaurant is looking to hire new cooks. The restaurant requires cooks to work a minimum of 40 hours per week, with a minimum of 8 hours per day. The restaurant will provide uniforms and will offer a free meal during their shift. The cooks must also be available to work on weekends if necessary. If the cook does not meet these requirements, they will not be considered for the position.

9. A construction company is looking to hire new carpenters. The company requires carpenters to work a minimum of 40 hours per week, with a minimum of 8 hours per day. The company will provide uniforms and will offer a free meal during their shift. The carpenters must also be available to work on weekends if necessary. If the carpenter does not meet these requirements, they will not be considered for the position.

10. A retail store is looking to hire new cashiers. The store requires cashiers to work a minimum of 30 hours per week, with a minimum of 6 hours per day. The store will provide uniforms and will offer a free meal during their shift. The cashiers must also be available to work on weekends if necessary. If the cashier does not meet these requirements, they will not be considered for the position.