Assignment 9

1. What is the main purpose of a research study? Explain in detail.

2. What is a hypothesis in a research study? How is it developed?

3. What are the different types of data collection methods in research studies?

4. What is the significance of sampling in research studies? Explain with examples.

5. What do you mean by research ethics? Why is it important in research studies?

6. What is the difference between qualitative and quantitative research methods?

7. What are the advantages and disadvantages of experimental research designs?

8. How do you interpret and analyze the results of a research study?

9. What is the role of peer review in research studies? Explain its importance.

10. How do you ensure the validity and reliability of research findings?

11. What are the ethical considerations in conducting research with vulnerable populations?

12. What are the potential biases that can affect research findings? How can they be addressed?

13. What are the key components of a research methodology section in a research paper?

14. How do you evaluate the impact of research studies on society and policy-making?

15. What are the implications of research findings for future research in the field?