Assignment 7: Interpersonal Character Strengths

Due date for submitting this assignment has passed.
As per our records you have not submitted this assignment.

1. Which of the following statements best characterizes "Healthy" attachment style as described by Bartholomew & Horowitz (1991)?
   - People are secure and comfortable in relationships.
   - People are comfortable with close emotional relationships.
   - People are comfortable with close emotional relationships.
   - People are uncomfortable getting close to others.
   - People are comfortable with close emotional relationships.
   - People are uncomfortable getting close to others.

   No, the answer is incorrect.
   - People are comfortable with close emotional relationships.
   - People are uncomfortable getting close to others.
   - People are comfortable with close emotional relationships.

   Accepted Answers:
   - People are comfortable with close emotional relationships.
   - People are uncomfortable getting close to others.

2. According to Selman, which of the following factors are perceived to be signs of a relationship headed for failure?
   - Commitment
   - Contempt
   - Communication
   - Controlliness
   - Communication
   - Controlliness

   No, the answer is incorrect.
   - Commitment
   - Contempt
   - Communication
   - Controlliness
   - Communication
   - Controlliness

   Accepted Answers:
   - Commitment
   - Contempt
   - Communication
   - Controlliness
   - Communication
   - Controlliness

3. What are regulated couples?
   - Couples who are not regulated and freely choose their own style.
   - Couples who are regulated but freely choose their style.
   - Couples who are regulated but freely choose their own.
   - Couples who are regulated but freely choose their style.
   - Couples who are regulated but freely choose their own.
   - Couples who are regulated but freely choose their own.

   No, the answer is incorrect.
   - Couples who are not regulated and freely choose their own style.
   - Couples who are regulated but freely choose their style.
   - Couples who are regulated but freely choose their own.
   - Couples who are regulated but freely choose their style.
   - Couples who are regulated but freely choose their own.
   - Couples who are regulated but freely choose their own.

   Accepted Answers:
   - Couples who are not regulated and freely choose their own style.
   - Couples who are regulated but freely choose their style.
   - Couples who are regulated but freely choose their own.
   - Couples who are regulated but freely choose their style.
   - Couples who are regulated but freely choose their own.
   - Couples who are regulated but freely choose their own.

4. According to Baranov (1999), the values underlying altruism are:
   - Financial personal values
   - Ethical personal values
   - Ethical personal values
   - Ethical personal values
   - Ethical personal values
   - Ethical personal values

   No, the answer is incorrect.
   - Financial personal values
   - Ethical personal values
   - Ethical personal values
   - Ethical personal values
   - Ethical personal values
   - Ethical personal values

   Accepted Answers:
   - Ethical personal values
   - Ethical personal values
   - Ethical personal values
   - Ethical personal values
   - Ethical personal values
   - Ethical personal values

5. Which of the following is true about forgiveness?
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.

   No, the answer is incorrect.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.

   Accepted Answers:
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.

6. What is the form of forgiveness that characterizes individuals who have reached the intermediate stages of moral reasoning, as per Kohlberg's theory?
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness

   No, the answer is incorrect.
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness

   Accepted Answers:
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness

7. Which of the following interpersonal character strengths do religious most commonly seek to promote and sustain in their believers?
   - Faith
   - Faith
   - Faith
   - Faith
   - Faith
   - Faith

   No, the answer is incorrect.
   - Faith
   - Faith
   - Faith
   - Faith
   - Faith
   - Faith

   Accepted Answers:
   - Faith
   - Faith
   - Faith
   - Faith
   - Faith
   - Faith

8. Which form of forgiveness characterizes individuals who have reached the intermediate stages of moral reasoning, as per Kohlberg's theory?
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness

   No, the answer is incorrect.
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness

   Accepted Answers:
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness
   - Restorative Forgiveness

9. Which of the following is true about forgiveness?
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.

   No, the answer is incorrect.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.

   Accepted Answers:
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.
   - People are more willing to forgive others if they feel satisfied, close, and committed.

10. Which of the following components of self-compassion are described in the research literature? (Select all that apply)
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness

    No, the answer is incorrect.
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness

    Accepted Answers:
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness

11. Which of the following components of self-compassion are described in the research literature? (Select all that apply)
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness

    No, the answer is incorrect.
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness

    Accepted Answers:
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness
    - Self-Kindness