Assignment 4

Due on 2000-06-06, 23:59 6T.

A specific and time-bound instance of a phenomenon under study is termed as:

- A. Paradigm
- B. Case study
- C. Narrative
- D. Ethnography
- E. Grounded theory

A sample or notable length narrative, produced in the form of a printed text, held in the first person by a narrator, who also narrate the actual experience or aspects of the events, is known as:

- A. Paradigm
- B. Case study
- C. Narrative
- D. Ethnography
- E. Grounded theory

The use of a variety of data sources in a study is known as:

- A. Data triangulation
- B. Investigation triangulation
- C. Theory triangulation
- D. Methodology triangulation

The use of several different researchers or evaluators in a study is known as:

- A. Data triangulation
- B. Investigator triangulation
- C. Theory triangulation
- D. Methodology triangulation

The use of multiple perspectives to interpret a single set of data is known as:

- A. Data triangulation
- B. Investigator triangulation
- C. Theory triangulation
- D. Methodology triangulation

A type of case study where a particular case is examined mainly to provide insight into a greater or to achieve a generalization, is known as:

- A. An instrumental case study
- B. A collective case study

A type of case study where a researcher may study a number of cases in order to investigate a phenomenon, association, or general condition, is known as:

- A. An instrumental case study
- B. A collective case study