Assignment 6

The due date for submitting the assignment has passed. As our per records you have not submitted this assignment.

1) What was the primary characteristic of first-wave feminism? (1 point)
   - highlighting the violation of women in the private sphere,
   - expanding gender-based standardized violence
   - embracing voting rights for women
   - enacting equal treatment in schools
   No, the answer is incorrect.
   Accepted Answers:
   - Enacting equal treatment in schools

2) Which of these concerns is not common to forms of feminism? (1 point)
   - The prevalence of patriarchy
   - Distance of people according to class-based hierarchies
   - Distance of labor based on traditional gender roles
   - The complex interaction between equality and difference
   No, the answer is incorrect.
   Accepted Answers:
   - Distance of labor based on traditional gender roles

3) Kate Millett, in her best-selling Political, argued that (1 point)
   - Universal suffrage was a fundamental right for women
   - Women needed to be provided equal opportunities in firms
   - Women faced the need to find happiness in their domestic roles
   - The oppression of women was systemic as well as psychological and sexual
   No, the answer is incorrect.
   Accepted Answers:
   - The oppression of women was systemic as well as psychological and sexual

4) What was the contribution of, respectively, Kate Millett and Germaine Greer's work to second-wave feminism? (1 point)
   - Their work showed that the feminist cause should highlight the oppression of women in the public sphere.
   - They argued for women's participation in public sphere.
   - They expected the prevailing sense of the political to something they have also shaped the domestic sphere.
   - They assumed that women should be allowed to participate in shaping the feminist movement.
   No, the answer is incorrect.
   Accepted Answers:
   - Their work showed that the feminist cause should highlight the oppression of women in the public sphere.

5) What did the work of psychiatrists, like B. D. Lucey, Alan Esterson, and David Cooper in the 1970s show, among other things? (1 point)
   - The family was a site of peace and reconciliation.
   - The family was a place where everyone was nurtured and cared for.
   - The family provided larger gender caricatures in both domestic and non-domestic work.
   - The family was often the site of terrible conflict and cruelty.
   No, the answer is incorrect.
   Accepted Answers:
   - The family was often the site of terrible conflict and cruelty.

6) For what purpose was the term 'intersexuality' first used? (1 point)
   - To support the claim that women from all walks of society have a right to representation.
   - To protest that women could существиelly continue and redistribute various kinds of work and gains.
   - To show how existing legal procedures and outcomes make the effects of multiple forms of discrimination multiform.
   - To show how there is a connection between patriarchal and non-patriarchal family structures.
   No, the answer is incorrect.
   Accepted Answers:
   - To show how there is a connection between patriarchal and non-patriarchal family structures.

7) When combined, feminization and ideation led to the conclusion that (1 point)
   - Changes must be individualistic in nature, not rooted in radical structural transformations.
   - What is needed is a complex transformation of the entire system of production relations.
   - Gender is a shallow and all-inclusive of all divisions in society.
   - Capitulates explain women's lack of profit by objectifying them.
   No, the answer is incorrect.
   Accepted Answers:
   - Changes must be individualistic in nature, not rooted in radical structural transformations.

8) Which of the following statements may be true in times of radical feminism? (1 point)
   - Capitulates is the root cause of the oppression of women.
   - All men benefit from the fear and anxiety that the very possibility of sexual violence generates among all women.
   - Men and women should be treated fairly, under existing systems.
   - The family is central to women's lives.
   No, the answer is incorrect.
   Accepted Answers:
   - Men and women should be treated fairly, under existing systems.

9) Which of the following is not a feature of second-wave feminism? (1 point)
   - Any site of political or ideation like the family or the workplace is political space.
   - Race and gender differences are both biological.
   - All social structures and systems are patriarchal.
   - Power cannot coexist with other systems of power and status.
   No, the answer is incorrect.
   Accepted Answers:
   - Race and gender differences are both biological.

10) Which of the following cannot be regarded as issues currently under discussion in feminist theory? (1 point)
    - Though post-structural theory has been seminal in understanding women's writing, it has led to a discussion over the conceptual framework of society and the ways we characterize gender identities.
    - Feminism in post-colonial countries has led to confront women's feminism because their path to modernity has been mediated by colonialism.
    - Issues of material inequality has remained largely untouched.
    - Feminism does not take into account racial suffering.
    No, the answer is incorrect.
    Accepted Answers:
    - Issues of material inequality has remained largely untouched.