Week 8 Assignment

The final project, which is due on Friday, is a team-based assignment that requires you to analyze a financial statement of a company of your choice. Your team will need to provide a comprehensive analysis of the company's financial health, including an examination of its liquidity, profitability, and solvency ratios. Each team will be responsible for preparing a presentation and a written report, which will be submitted to the instructor by the end of the week.

Instructions

- Your team will be responsible for selecting a company and obtaining the necessary financial statements.
- Conduct a thorough analysis of the company's financial health using appropriate ratios and metrics.
- Prepare a presentation and a written report summarizing your findings.
- Submit your report by the end of the week.