Assignment 01

The due date is the submitting the assignment that has passed.

Please make sure you have not submitted this assignment.

1. What is Agile Project Management?
   - A series of activities that happen in a project to achieve a particular goal.
   - An individual or collaboration approach that is practiced to achieve a particular goal.
   - The action of making or manufacturing of components or raw materials, or, the process of having or manufacturing of them.
   - All of the above.

2. How is Agile Project Management different from traditional project management?
   - Agile is a technique and software.
   - They have a clear goal or set of goals.
   - They are used to budget, schedule, and resources.
   - All of the above.

3. What is a Kanban board?
   - A project summary.
   - A tool for managing project.
   - A visual tool for managing work.
   - None of these.

4. What is the key benefit of Agile Project Management?
   - It improves customer satisfaction.
   - It increases the speed of delivery.
   - It reduces the cost of project.
   - All of the above.

5. What is the following statement(s) true about Agile Project Management?
   - Agile Project Management is a process-oriented model where techniques for planning are concerned.
   - The primary objective of Project Management is to create an organization and human relationships.
   - It is an iterative development approach that emphasizes early and continuous feedback from the customer.
   - None of these.

6. Which of the following statement(s) true about Agile Project Management?
   - Agile Project Management is a process-oriented model where techniques for planning are concerned.
   - The primary objective of Project Management is to create an organization and human relationships.
   - It is an iterative development approach that emphasizes early and continuous feedback from the customer.
   - None of these.

7. Which of the following is true about Agile Project Management?
   - Agile Project Management is a process-oriented model where techniques for planning are concerned.
   - The primary objective of Project Management is to create an organization and human relationships.
   - It is an iterative development approach that emphasizes early and continuous feedback from the customer.
   - None of these.

8. What is the main benefit of Agile Project Management?
   - It improves customer satisfaction.
   - It increases the speed of delivery.
   - It reduces the cost of project.
   - All of the above.

9. What is the key benefit of Agile Project Management?
   - It improves customer satisfaction.
   - It increases the speed of delivery.
   - It reduces the cost of project.
   - All of the above.

10. How is Agile Project Management different from traditional project management?
    - Agile is a technique and software.
    - They have a clear goal or set of goals.
    - They are used to budget, schedule, and resources.
    - All of the above.

11. What is the key benefit of Agile Project Management?
    - It improves customer satisfaction.
    - It increases the speed of delivery.
    - It reduces the cost of project.
    - All of the above.

12. How is Agile Project Management different from traditional project management?
    - Agile is a technique and software.
    - They have a clear goal or set of goals.
    - They are used to budget, schedule, and resources.
    - All of the above.

Due on 2019-09-14, 23:59 IST.