Assignment 11

Please read the article, "The Science of Happiness," and answer the following questions.

1. What is the author's main argument? (10 points)

2. What evidence does the author use to support their argument? (10 points)

3. How does the author's argument relate to your own experiences? (10 points)

4. Are there any limitations to the author's argument? (10 points)

5. What are some practical steps for increasing your own happiness? (10 points)

6. How does the author's conclusion differ from their initial argument? (10 points)

7. What implications does the author's conclusion have for your own life? (10 points)

8. How might you apply the author's findings to improve your own well-being? (10 points)

9. What further research would you like to see on the topic of happiness? (10 points)

10. In your opinion, is the author's conclusion convincing? Why or why not? (10 points)