HSE Practices for Offshore and Petroleum Industries

The course provides a survey of the safety and environmental issues in the petroleum sector. It will provide students with an understanding of the methodologies and techniques to recognize the key elements in the safety and environmental management of offshore and petroleum industries. The course will also highlight the role of personnel in their respective operations.

Lecturer:
Professor Glenn H. Smith

Contents:
- Introduction to the Offshore and Petroleum Industry
- Safety and Environmental Management
- Risk Assessment
- Accident Investigation
- Environmental Policies
- Regulations
- HSE Management Systems
- Safety and Environmental Education

Instant Hangout

To be due to review:

BOOKS AND REFERENCES

Additional reference materials: